Message

Rahul Bhatnagar, IAS

Aspiration is the main fuel for progress. Aspirations transform ordinary people into extraordinary achievers. National Sports University (NSU) is the fulfillment of the aspirations of the people of Manipur and the Government of India to create an educational and coaching edifice in the field of sports, based on values and excellence. Leadership by example is, perhaps, the most essential instrument to encourage youngsters to demonstrate commitment and dedication towards any goal.

The role of the NSU will be to mould its students to become the best in their chosen field of study. Each programme offered by NSU is carefully structured and vetted by experts in the field to meet international standards. The partnerships made by signing the MoUs with other universities across the world will ensure that they are familiar with the best practices in the world of sports.

The University aims to introduce generic sports science programmes covering sports science and medicine, sports management and technology, sports education, sports journalism, and interdisciplinary studies.

NSU is the embodiment of the commitment of the Government of India towards the development of sports and games to international standards by pioneering the first ever central university dedicated to the cause of sports and applied research thereof. Cutting edge research in the field by partnering with other universities within and outside the country will surely give NSU the impetus required to launch it on to its journey to become a world-class university of its kind. I am certain that the NSU will emerge as a truly effective model for development of positive changes in the sports eco-system of our country.

I wish the National Sports University and its students a bright and fulfilling future.

Manipur at a Glance

“Over every mountain there is a path, although it may not be seen from the valley.”

~ Theodore Roethke

Manipur, with its state capital Imphal, is one of the seven sister states of the northeastern part of India. An oval-shaped valley surrounded by nine ranges of bluish-green hills, Manipur is a veritable “land of gems.”

With its cascading rapids, forests rich in Shirui Lily, and diverse fauna like the hoolock gibbon, slow loris, etc. to name a few, makes Manipur one of the unique states of India. The Sangai, the state animal of Manipur, also known as the dancing deer or the Eld’s deer, is an endangered subspecies of brow-antlered deer, found only in this state.

The state is rich in culture, too. The classical devotional form of Manipuri dance is famous for its exotic costumes and graceful rhythm.

Imphal

Imphal, with an area of 8621 square miles, is situated 786 metres above sea level and is one of the most ancient cities in India. The name ‘Imphal’ is derived from ‘Yumphal’, meaning ‘the land of many villages.’ The landscape of Imphal is a mix of hills, valleys, forests, and rivers.

Sports

Sports in Manipur dates to the time of ancient history. The most popular traditional games include Sagol Kangjei, Thang Ta & Sarit Sarak, Khong Kangjei, Yubi Lakpi, Mukna, Hiyang Tannaba and Kang. The modern-day polo game is said to have its roots in Sagol Kangjei, the traditional sport of the state. Not surprisingly, Imphal boasts of Imphal Polo Ground, the oldest one in the world. The Manipuri style of polo is known as the Pana which is different from the polo played in the international style.

Thang Ta & Sarit Sarak are a very skillful and energetic martial arts. Khong Kangjei is also known as Manipuri hockey which is played with seven players on each side like polo. Yubi lakpi is a seven-a-side Manipuri version of rugby. ‘Yubi’ in Manipuri means coconut and ‘Lakpi’ means snatching. Mukna is the name given to Manipuri wrestling, which is played between two male rivals.

Sports Achievers

The state of Manipur has produced several great sportspersons - boxers like MC Mary Kom; weightlifters like N. Kunjarani Devi, Mirabai Chanu, and Khumukcham Sanjita Chanu; hockey players like Tingonleima Chanu; and footballers like Jackson Singh Thounaojam, Givson Singh Moirangthem, etc.

The lake has multiple ring-shaped land masses floating on it known as “phumdis” or “phumshongs.” Phumdis are heterogeneous mass of biomass, surrounded by colourful water plants and water chestnuts.

Kangla Fort or Kangla Palace, a symbol of Manipur’s glory, is situated close to the western bank of the Imphal River. The word ‘kangla’ means ‘dry land’ in old Meitei. The major landmarks in the growth of Kangla Fort were constructed by King

Climate

The climate is moderate in the valley and cold in the hills. In summer, the temperature ranges from 32°C to 34°C whereas the winter temperatures can drop from 1°C to 2°C.

Places of Attraction

Imphal has several places of attraction.

Loktak Lake, which is like a miniature sea, is the largest fresh water lake in the North-Eastern India and is the only floating national park, Keibul Lamjao, in the world. This national park, situated on the largest phumdi in the lake, is also home to endangered Sangai - the state animal of Manipur.

Khagemba (1597–1652 AD), the conqueror of the Chinese. Kangla is the most important historical and archaeological site of Manipur because the kingdom of Manipur was established and developed at Kangla.

The other places of attraction are the Ima Keithel Women’s Market, ISKCON Temple, INA Museum, India Peace Memorial, Red Hill, etc.

How to Reach

Nearest airport: Tulihal Airport in Imphal is well-connected to Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata, Guwahati, Bangalore and Nagpur.

Reach.

For the stars. You may stumble. You may fall.

Get up. Again, and again. Sweat it out .

Strain your muscles.

S - T - R - E - T - C - H your limits.

Believe in yourself.

Even if you don't grab stars, you won't come up with mud either.

And who knows, you may come up with a fistful of stars, too!!

We encourage you to reach for the stars.

1. Introduction to National Sports University, Manipur

It is not about what we have today, but what will best serve future generations in the next hundred years or so.

Nelson Mandela, the Nobel laureate for peace and former president of South Africa said in one of his speeches, “Sport has the power to change the world. It has the power to inspire. It has the power to unite people in a way that little else does. It speaks to youth in a language they understand. Sport can create hope where once there was only despair...” But to inspire the next generation, we need the right professionals to lead and coach them in sport.

A state like Manipur which has produced many sportspersons of international repute, more than deserves a state-of-the-art sports university which will further give the much-needed push to produce more prodigies.

India already has several state universities focusing on sports education including a Deemed University. But NSU is the first Central University to be set up in India with the objectives of focusing on sports education and producing top athletes, sports scientists, and physical educationists.

The proposed university would be organized under four schools:

(1) School of Sports Science and Sports Medicine having numerous departments such as Applied Physiology and Anatomy, Biochemical Sciences, Applied Psychology, Sports Biomechanics and Movement Sciences, Preventive and Rehabilitative

Sciences, Sports Sciences, Disability Sports and Adventure Sports, Clinical Sports Medicine Unit, etc.;

(2) School of Sports Management and Technology with the departments of Sports Management and Digital Media, Sports Technology and Architecture, etc.;

(3) School of Sports Education having departments of Physical Education, Sports Coaching and allied sciences.

(4) School of Interdisciplinary Studies having departments of Languages, Sports Sociology, Peace and Development, etc.

It is with this as one of the missions that the National Sports University, Manipur was set up in 2018, with a tentative project cost of over Rs.500 crores. The University is presently functional from its temporary campus at the Khuman Lampak Sports Complex, Imphal. Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi has already laid the foundation stone for the University's proposed 325 acre campus at Imphal West, on 16th March 2018. Dr. Najma Heptulla, Governor of Manipur, Shri N. Biren Singh, Chief Minister, Manipur, Col. Rajyavardhan Rathore (Retd.), AVSM, Minister of State (Independence Charge) Youth Affairs & Sports were also present on the occasion of laying of Foundation Stone of the University. The construction work is in full swing at the proposed site.

The National Sports University will have the flexibility to open new schools/departments in consonance with the advances and developments in sports science, sports medicine, and allied areas.

The University, once developed, will be the first one of its kind to promote sports education in the areas of sports sciences, sports technology, sports management, and sports coaching. It will also function as the national training centre for selected sports disciplines by adopting the best international practices by signing Memoranda of Understanding (MoU) with international universities. The Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports has already signed MoUs with the Universities of Canberra and Victoria in April 2017.

Admission Test (2018-19)

Physical Fitness Test Guideline

50 Meter Dash

Sprint or speed tests can be performed over varying distances, depending on the factors being tested and the relevance to the sport. The 50 Meter Sprint is part of the International Physical Fitness Test, and their protocol is listed here.

Purpose: The aim of this test is to determine acceleration and speed.

Equipment required: measuring tape or marked track, stopwatch, cone markers, flat and clear surface of at least 70 meters.

Procedure: The test involves running a single maximum sprint over 50 meters, with the time recorded. A thorough warm up should be given, including some practice starts and accelerations. Start from a stationary standing position (hands cannot touch the ground), with one foot in front of the other. The front foot must be behind the starting line. Once the subject is ready and motionless, the starter gives the instructions "set" then "go.". The tester should provide hints for maximizing speed (such as keeping low, driving hard with the arms and legs) and the participant should be encouraged to not slow down before crossing the finish line.

Standing Long Jump Test (Broad Jump)

The Standing long jump, also called the Broad Jump, is a common and easy to administer test of explosive leg power.

Purpose: to measure the explosive power of the legs

Equipment required: tape measure to measure distance jumped, non-slip floor for takeoff, and soft landing area preferred. Commercial Long Jump Landing Mats are also available. The take off line should be clearly marked.

Procedure: The athlete stands behind a line marked on the ground with feet slightly apart. A two foot take-off and landing is used, with swinging of the arms and bending of the knees to provide forward drive. The subject attempts to jump as far as possible, landing on both feet without falling backwards. Three attempts are allowed. See some long jump video examples.

Scoring: The measurement is taken from take-off line to the nearest point of contact on the landing (back of the heels). Record the longest distance jumped, the best of three attempts. The table below gives a rating scale for the standing long jump test for adults, based on personal experiences. See some athlete results for the long jump test. You can also use this calculator to convert cm to feet and inches.

Variations / modifications: A long jump landing pit may be used instead of a hard surface, which enables the subject to confidently put more effort into the jump, and to extend the legs further in front of the body for landing. This technique also allows those with greater skill to score longer jumps, which is undesirable if you are trying to test for leg power only. Generally longer distances should be achieved with this technique, so the norm table above would not be accurate. The Eurofit Test recommends using a graduated mat for ease of recording jump distance on the landing surface.

Overhead Power Ball Throw (backwards)

The test involves throwing a Power Ball (or medicine ball) for maximum distance. The Overhead Power Ball Throw was once one of the tests of the SPARQ rating system for basketball and soccer, and the protocol that they used is listed here. There is a similar back throw test using a 8lb shot put.

Aim: This test measures core strength and total body power.

Equipment required: 2 or 3 kg power ball (For boys its 3kg, and for girls its 2kg), tape measure, clear open area for testing.

Procedure: The athlete starts by standing facing away from the direction they are going to throw, with their heels at the start line. The starting position is with the ball in both hands, held above the head, with arms extended. Keeping the arms extended, swing the ball down between your legs while flexing the knees. Then in one motion the ball is flung up and back over the head. Several practices may be required to get the best trajectory for maximum distance. The athlete is permitted to fall backward over the line after the ball is released. Three attempts are allowed.

Scoring: The distance from the starting line to where the ball first lands is recorded. The measurement is recorded to the nearest foot. The best result of three throws is recorded.

1000 Meter Run/Walk Test

The 1 km run test for male and 600mtrs run test for females is one of the fitness tests used in the International Physical Fitness Test battery. The distance used is actually less than 1 km for girls and young boys.

Purpose: This test measures aerobic fitness in the young or those of low fitness level.

Equipment required: oval or running track, stopwatch.

Procedure: The aim of this test is to complete the required distance in the fastest possible time. On the signal, “ready,” all participants line up behind the starting line. On the command ‘Go!’ the clock will start, and they will begin running at their own pace. Cheering or calling out the elapsed time is also permitted to encourage the participants. Walking is permitted but not encouraged.

Scoring: The total time taken to complete the distance is recorded, in minutes and seconds.
